

About TILE

At Life College's TILE (Transition to Independent Living and Employment) program, we help young adults with intellectual disabilities including, but not limited to, Autism, Fragile X, Brain Injury, and other Developmentally Delayed Learners.

The goal is to transition our students from dependent living through a college experience to prepare them for gainful employment and independent living.

Our Life College internship program will teach students transferable job skills for careers in industries such as automotive, child development, computer software development, leisure and hospitality, light manufacturing, healthcare, office administration, transportation, and warehousing while demonstrating the soft skills necessary to maintain gainful employment.

Student Profile

Student Age:

18+

Schooling:

High School Diploma, Certificate of Completion, or G.E.D.

Independence:

Able to function safely and independently on campus, in the classroom, in the workplace, and in other community settings. Have the potential to lead an independent life with meaningful and effective transition support.

Responsibility:

Must agree to the IVC "Academic Honesty and Dishonesty Policy" and "Student Code of Conduct," and the Life College "Dress Code and Appearance Policy."

Commitment:

Must demonstrate commitment to the Life College program and to acquiring the living, employment, and self-development skills required to be independent.

Community

Life College's TILE program is a collaboration between Irvine Valley College (IVC) and Life College. Working together with the local business community, we are creating learning opportunities and raising awareness of the value our students embody in today's workforce.

This collaboration is the cornerstone of our internship program. At the end of our program students will be able to demonstrate many skills:

- Job readiness
- Business soft skills
- Transferable job skills
- Resume writing
- Interviewing skills
- Internship experience

Our Vision

We believe that many young adults with intellectual disabilities can lead independent lives with the help of meaningful and ongoing transition support. To best foster this path, we provide an alternative pathway of classroom and community-based learning to achieve independence other than the post-secondary education and government programs available. Realizing this transition requires a holistic approach, Life College has designed a program contoured around the needs of the student to help them acquire the skills necessary to live and work independently in the community.

It is the goal of the TILE program at Life College to give our students the confidence to perform everything from personal planning to money management. When our graduates need a helping hand, we'll be there to help with next steps.
